Top Models in Science - Even science needs models!

Do you like drawing fantastic characters? Do you play basketball? Or would you like to fly to Mars? At the summer camp at IST Austria you can do all of it, but only theoretically! For a week you can deal with models. So that we understand each other, we do not mean the models of the fashion world and also not remote-controlled aircrafts. We speak of models that enable us to land on Mars, mathematical and physical models.

We also want something from you: Present your work that you develop during the research finally to your colleagues.

This summer program is funded by the Federal Ministry of Education, Science and Research.

When: August 26-30, 9 AM - 4 PM

Target group: Teenagers between 12 and 16 years

Participation fee: EUR 80
